II-201 Preface

In days of old, awards, and particularly Grants-of-Arms, were sparingly awarded, which made them of great value. In these later days, orders and awards proliferate, though few orders rest solely on their own merit and the repute of their numbers, but all must have their lesser award, greater award, or even grant, and strings of initials. Recognition of skill and service in any area is valuable, but all monarchs are urged to exercise restraint; perhaps that all-important but neglected area of endeavor that must be rewarded is simply a monarch's own special interest. Particularly in this matter of Grants is restraint urged; the existing orders (Bough, Velvet Owl, Scarlet Star, Sable Sword, Legio Ursi, Split Arrow, and Meridian Blade) are sufficient for all areas of the arts, sciences, and service; such fair coinage should not be debased.

II-202 The Order of the Rose

- (B) Holders of the Order shall be entitled to place after their names the initials C.R. and shall be styled and announced in processional as Companions of the Order of the Rose.

 3. They shall have set an example of courteous and noble behavior suitable to a Peer of the Realm.

With the granting of this status, a Peer shall be exempted from those responsibilities and duties within the primogeniture of the Crown until such time as the Emeritus Peer shall state the resumption of his/her duties. Among these responsibilities shall be included voting within the Peerage circle, the taking of further associates, and attendance at any and all meetings of their respective circles. The Peer Emeritus may reassume these responsibilities by simple re-notification of the Crown, Kingdom Seneschal, and the secretary(s) of their order(s) no less than 30 days prior to said resumption. The provisions of this law shall be binding only on the Peerage of the Kingdom of Meridies.
3. The Board of Directors reserves the right to degrade a person from the Peerage. A recommendation to the Board for degradation may be made when a member of an Order consistently fails to show those Peerly qualities that caused their elevation. VIII-103 Passing on of the Crown

- (A) In order to assure the orderly passing on of the Crown of Meridies through ensuing generations and to insure the timely knowledge of the populace of the fair Kingdom of Meridies concerning the dates of Crown Tournaments and Coronation, the following dates are set for these events and should be used except under extenuating circumstances:

Article IX

Subsidiary Groups

A subsidiary group is a group within a Kingdom which is administered by the Kingdom, either directly or indirectly, through a principality or barony.

IX-101 College

- (A) A college is a subsidiary group with fluctuating membership.
- (B) A college shall have at least five (5) paid members (members with sustaining membership in the S.C.A.).
- (C) Colleges/Ports/Strongholds shall be required to meet the following requirements for officers: seneschal(e), herald, reeve, knight marshal, and minister of arts and/or sciences, who shall maintain a record of regular reports as required by the Great Officers of State.
 1. Since colleges are formed because of likely fluctuation in membership within the given area, the Kingdom realizes that there will be periods of time (especially in the cases of groups located on college/university campuses) when there is no activity from members of the group. For this reason, the Great Officers of State, when informed of periods of inactivity, will exercise leniency as regards reporting structures. Officers shall be paid members.

- (a) This requires the local officer to notify his Kingdom level superior of said period of inactivity, before the act.
2. As with any other group, if there is a vacancy in an office, it becomes the duty of the seneschal(e) to report for the missing officer until a replacement is named.

IX-102 Cantons

- (A) A canton is a group within and administered by a barony.
- (B) A canton shall have at least five (5) paid members (members with sustaining membership in the S.C.A.).
- (C) A canton forms to receive assistance from an established barony or province. For that reason, it is not required that all canton offices be filled by members from the canton. When no officer in the canton exists for an office, the corresponding baronial or provincial office will take over the duties of the office for the canton, with the assistance of the canton seneschal(e). Officers shall be paid members.
- (D) A canton may be created within the existing territory of their host Barony. In addition, an area outside the territory of a host Barony can petition for Canton status, with the approval of the Crown, Kingdom Seneschal(e) and Society Seneschal(e) of the proposed territorial modification.

IX-103 Shires

- (A) A shire shall be a subsidiary group that is administered directly by the Kingdom or Principality.
- (B) A shire shall have at least ten (10) paid members (members with sustaining memberships in the S.C.A.) or approval of the Crown and the Kingdom Seneschal(e).
- (C) A shire shall have and maintain paid members in the following offices: seneschal(e), herald, knight marshal, minister of arts, minister of sciences, and reeve, who shall maintain a record of regular reports as required by the Great Officers of State.
- (D) A shire must be located sufficiently far from other established groups.

IX-104 Baronies

- (A) A barony is of sufficient size and influence within the Kingdom that the Crown may see fit to appoint a ruling noble to rule in its stead when the Crown cannot be present. It is administered by a Kingdom or Principality.
- (B) A barony shall have at least twenty-five (25) paid members with sustaining memberships in the S.C.A.
- (C) A barony shall have each office corresponding to each Great Office of State, with the exception of Chirurgeon, filled by a paid member. All officers shall maintain a record of regular reporting as required by the Great Officers of State.
- (D) A barony shall maintain a record of holding regular and frequent local meetings, including, but not limited to, business meetings, fighter practices, guild meetings, and the like. The times and locations of these meetings should be made known to all members.
- (E) A barony must hold at least one (1) major, official S.C.A. event per calendar year.
- (F) Each Barony is required to submit a bid for a Kingdom level event at least once each calendar year.
- (G) A barony must maintain a level of excellence in the Arts, Sciences, and the Martial Arts.
- (H) A barony must have at least one (1) person acceptable to the Crown to assume the title of Baron or Baroness.
- (I) The relationship between a barony and its cantons, including such issues as whether canton members may hold baronial offices, and whether canton members are eligible for baronial awards, is a matter to be decided between the barony and canton involved, but is subject to approval by the Crown or the Kingdom Seneschal(e).
- (J) Each prospective and current Barony shall have established written procedures for the succession of the Baronial Seat, as well as written guidelines for the responsibilities of the Baronial Seat and the Baronial Officers.

IX-105 Provinces

- (A) A province differs from a barony only in that, in a barony, the Crown has appointed a ruling noble to be the Baron or Baroness, and a province shall have no such ruling noble. The Crown may choose not to appoint such a noble, or the group may petition the Crown to remain or become a province.
- (B) All requirements listed above for baronies, save those which refer to ruling nobles, shall apply to provinces.
- (C) The canton of a province may style itself to be a march.

IX-106 Principalities

- (A) A principality is a group or collection of groups covering a contiguous region of land within a Kingdom. The collection of groups has reached such a state of advancement that it can be allowed to choose its ruling Prince and Princess by combat, as provided for in Corpora and elsewhere in Kingdom Law.
- (B) A group may petition the Board of Directors through the Crown and the Kingdom Seneschal(e) at any time it has met the basic requirements set forth in Corpora and Kingdom Law, for principality status. (c) The Crown and Kingdom Seneschal(e) will report favorably to the Society Seneschal(e) that the proposed principality be advanced to that status if he/she sees that the proposed principality meets the following additional requirements:

1. A consistent record of reporting from all offices in the principality. Such reports shall be on time and complete as required by the Kingdom Officers.
2. A record of fiscal responsibility.
3. A record of significant activity in the Arts, Sciences, and Martial Pursuits.
4. A sufficient number of fighters so as to maintain the dignity of a Coronet List.
5. Sufficient numbers of members of the peerages, kingdom orders, and armigers.
6. A record of hosting region-wide events and other official events in such number that the pace may be maintained after becoming a principality.

IX-107 Advancement of Principality to Kingdom Status

- (A) When a Principality is approved for advancement to Kingdom status, the next scheduled Coronet List shall become the first Crown List of the Incipient Kingdom. This List shall be held under supervision of the Crown of Meridies. Participants shall conform to the following qualifications:
1. The participant shall reside within the borders of the Incipient Kingdom.
 2. The participant shall not be the King, Queen, Crown Prince or Crown Princess of Meridies, nor shall he or she be the reigning Coronet of the Principality.
 3. The participant shall meet all other standards as set down in Meridies Kingdom Law and the Laws of the Principality.
- (B) Elevation of the first Crown of the Incipient' Kingdom shall be accomplished in the following manner:
1. The Coronet shall present their coronets to the Crown of Meridies and take their rightful places with the Viscounty.
 2. The Crown of Meridies shall crown the first monarchs of the new Kingdom.

IX-108 Establishment and Advancement of Subsidiary Groups

- (A) The establishment and status of shires, cantons and colleges is the sole responsibility of the Kingdom Seneschal(e).
- (B) New groups are incipient and thus not permitted full freedom within the Kingdom structure. They must have sponsorship of an established group in two areas.
1. Incipient groups must have an establish group sponsor any event so that the legal and insurance needs of the Society are covered. This does not mean that the sponsoring group must provide labor, but it does not preclude such.
 2. Incipient groups may not have a bank account and must make arrangement with a neighboring group for the banking and disbursement of group monies until such time as the new group advances to permanent status.
- (C) The establishment and status of baronies, provinces and principalities and the advancement of a principality to kingdom status is the responsibility of the Board of Directors, and any petition for the establishment of a barony, province or principality shall be transmitted to the Society Seneschal(e) through the Kingdom Seneschal(e), who shall append the joint approval or disapproval of the Crown and Kingdom Seneschal(e), including reasons for this ruling.
- (D) A canton may petition to become a shire, or a shire may petition to become a canton, with the approval of the baronial/provincial Seneschal(e), the approval of the Society Seneschal(e) and, if applicable, the approval of the Baron or Baroness.
- (E) No group may petition for or be granted a change in status unless it meets the requirements for the new status. Petitions shall include proof that all requirements have been met.

IX-109 Reduction of Group Status

- (A) If, in the opinion of the Kingdom Seneschal(e), a group is not meeting the minimum requirements of its status, the Kingdom Seneschal(e) will meet with the Seneschal(e) of the group, and discuss remedial procedures. A letter outlining these procedures will be sent to the local Seneschal(e) following this meeting. If, after six (6) months, the Kingdom Seneschal(e) does not feel that the minimum requirements have been met, or that significant growth toward meeting these requirements has been made, the Kingdom Seneschal(e) will communicate with the Crown and all Great Officers of State, requesting an evaluation of the group. If the evaluation shows that the group is not meeting minimum standards, then the Kingdom Seneschal(e) may, with the concurrence of the Crown, require the local Seneschal(e) to show cause why the group should not be reduced in status or abolished. In all cases where groups are deemed unable to sustain their current status, the Society Seneschal(e) and the Board of Directors will be formally apprised of the situation, and recommendations as to the future status of said groups shall be submitted to the Society Seneschal(e) and the Board from the Crown and the Kingdom Seneschal in writing.
- (B) If a barony, shire, canton, or college does not submit a report to the Kingdom Seneschal(e)'s office for a period of one (1) year, and has held no official S.C.A. events, then the Kingdom Seneschal(e) and reigning Crown may petition the Society Seneschal(e) to petition the Board of Directors to declare said group to be nonexistent.
