ARTICLE I THE RIGHTS, DUTIES AND PRIVILEGES OF THE LANDED NOBILITY OF MERIDIES

I.100 DEFINITION OF THE CROWN

The Crown consists of the Sovereign and the Consort of Meridies. All rights, duties, and powers rest with both, equally and separately, unless otherwise specified by Corpora or Kingdom Law.

I.101 ADMINISTRATION OF MERIDIAN LAW

A. The Laws of Meridies are the publicly proclaimed and published Word of the Crown; subject to the authority of the Board of Directors and the Laws of the United States of America.

B. Within the Society, if there is any conflict among the provisions of the following types of rules, those higher on the list will govern those lower:

1. The By-Laws of the appropriate organization
2. The Corporate Policies of the appropriate organization
3. The Corpora of the Society
4. Society Officers' Policies approved by the Board
5. Meridian Kingdom Law
6. Decision of the Crown (for the duration of the current reign)
7. Principality Law (if applicable, within the principality that enacts it)
8. Decision of the Coronet (if applicable, within the principality and for the duration of the current reign)

C. The Crown will seek the counsel of the Kingdom Seneschal, the Kingdom Law Committee, and any Greater Kingdom Officer relevant to the proposed law change before the creation, amendment, or repeal of any Kingdom Law.

1. Statue is the continuing body of law in the Kingdom.
2. Charters are administrative tools that Patent Orders and Orders of High Merit (OHM) use to define structure and procedure.
  - a. Unless written into Kingdom or Principality law, organizational charters do not have the force of law.
  - b. Branch charters are not written into law.
3. Heraldic law
  - a. Prior to the creation of any new Kingdom (or Baronial) award, the Crown or Heirs (or Baronage) must consult with the Beacon Herald regarding the name and badge of the proposed new award.

- b. New awards, including Baronial awards, cannot be written into Kingdom Law until the proposed name and badge have been researched for conflict by the Beacon Herald and submitted to the College of Heralds.
  - c. The Crown or Heirs (or Baronage) should consult with the Beacon Herald and staff with regard to award description and precedence.
  - d. The Crown or Heirs (or Baronage) should consult with Batgabelle for regalia.
4. Kingdom Law changes must be signed by the Sovereign, Consort, and the Kingdom Seneschal.
  5. No new laws or amendments will be in effect until there is both a proclamation by the Crown and publication as defined by section I.101.D.1.
  6. No new statute law, or amendments to statute law will take effect until the end of the reign in which the law or amendment is approved.
  7. Edicts are the lawful command of the Crown.
    - a. Edicts have the force of law and last for the period of time proclaimed, but do not exceed the duration of the reign in which they are proclaimed.
    - b. Edicts may not conflict with existing Kingdom Law.
    - c. Edicts of more than 30 days must be proclaimed at a sanctioned event and published in the official Kingdom social media.

D. Publication

1. All proclamations of amendments, additions, and deletions to Kingdom Law must be published in the Kingdom newsletter within 30 days of issuance.
2. The Kingdom website is the repository of Kingdom Law.

I.102 PUBLICATION

All amendments, deletions, additions, and proclamations of Kingdom Law must be published in the Kingdom newsletter or in a special supplemental publication within 90 days of issuance and must be signed by the Sovereign, the Consort, and the Kingdom Seneschal. If a supplemental publication is used, an announcement must be made in the Kingdom newsletter. Publication may be in printed or electronic format.

I.103 SOVEREIGN'S PRESENCE

The Sovereign's Presence is defined as the ten-foot area around Their body, and no person, including the Consort, may enter this Presence without rendering proper courtesy to the Sovereign. No persons save armigers may bear arms in the Sovereign's Presence.

I.104 CONSORT'S PRESENCE

The Consort's Presence is defined as the ten-foot area around Their body, and no person, including the Sovereign, may enter this Presence without rendering proper courtesy to the Consort. No one save armigers may bear arms in the Consort's Presence.

I.105 SOVEREIGN HEIR'S PRESENCE

The Sovereign Heir's Presence is defined as the ten-foot area around Their body, and no person, excluding the Crown, including the Consort Heir, may enter this Presence without rendering proper courtesy to the Sovereign Heir. No persons save armigers may bear arms in the Sovereign Heir's Presence.

I.106 CONSORT HEIR'S PRESENCE

The Consort Heir's Presence is defined as the ten-foot area around Their body, and no person, excluding the Crown, including the Sovereign Heir, may enter this Presence without rendering proper courtesy to the Consort Heir. No persons save armigers may bear arms in the Consort Heir's Presence.

I.107 SOVEREIGN AND CONSORT

- A. The Crown has the right to bestow titles, ennoblements, awards, grants, etc., as They see fit and as outlined in Corpora and Kingdom Law. Prior to the creation of any new order, the Crown must consult the Beacon Herald regarding the name and regalia of the proposed order.
- B. The Crown is the Protector of all Orders within the Kingdom and enjoys all rights, privileges, and responsibilities of the Companions of the Orders of Meridies.
- C. The rights and honors accorded to the Orders of Meridies (e.g., March and precedence, election, associates, display and maintenance of arms and insignia, bearing arms in the Royal Presence, etc.) stem from the Crown, and as such, are subject to regulation by the Crown. The Crown may delegate these rights to the Orders for their internal maintenance.
- D. The Crown may, under certain circumstances and in adherence to Corpora, delegate the authority to bestow Peerages, and any other awards, to a special representative. This delegation must be in writing for each specific award.
- E. The Crown will not hold any other office during the time of Their Reign; but will find a suitable successor for any vacancy They leave. This will not include custodial care of territorial baronages, unless the Crown deems it necessary.
- F. The Crown has the right to designate sites and hosting branches for Kingdom level events. When deciding on bids, the Crown should consult the appropriate Kingdom officers on events relating to their offices. The Crown should consult the Heirs on any bids for Kingdom events held during the next reign.
- G. The Crown will give the Heirs copies of any Kingdom law changes.

H. The Crown is responsible for all Royal regalia used during Their reign. They are monetarily liable for any damages done to items while in Their possession due to avoidable negligence. Kingdom property will be checked at the end of each reign. The Sovereign and Consort will work with the Kingdom Regalia Coordinator (or designated representative) to transfer Royal regalia at each Coronation and Crown List.

I.108 THE HEIRS

A. The Sovereign Heir and Consort Heir may act as regents of the Crown whenever the Sovereign and Consort are both absent, subject to the provisions in Item I-109.

B. The Heirs will not hold any other office during Their Reign and will find a suitable successor for any vacancy They leave. This shall not include the custodial care of territorial baronages, unless the Crown deems it necessary.

C. It is the duty of the Heirs to oversee the Crown List held during Their reign.

D. The Heirs are responsible for all Royal regalia used during Their tenure. They are monetarily liable for any damages done to items while in Their possession due to avoidable negligence. Kingdom property will be checked at the end of their tenure. They are to work with the Kingdom Regalia Coordinator (or designated representative) to transfer Royal regalia at Coronation and Crown List.

I.109 TERRITORIAL BARON AND BARONESS

A. The Territorial Baron and/or Baroness (Baronage) is the representative of the Crown within the boundaries of their Territory and will be responsible for the establishment and maintenance of such procedures and customs as are necessary for the internal peace and orderly continuance of that Barony.

B. The Baronage will be afforded such courtesies, as is its right as a representative of the Crown.

C. The Baronage must swear fealty to the Crown. Should it not be able to attend the Crown in person, it must submit a written Oath of Fealty within thirty (30) days of Coronation. It will be considered inactive by the Crown until the Fealty Oath is sworn.

D. The Baronage has the right to preside over its Barony's events and may hold a Baronial Court at its pleasure.

E. The Baronage has the right to bestow the Baronial Service Order specific to its Barony. At its request and with the Crown's discretion, the bestowal may carry with it an Award of Arms for the recipient.

F. The Baronage may establish non-armigerous awards specific to its Barony.

G. The Crown may remove a Baron/Baroness for failure of office or other cause, or after receiving the advice and petition of the Baronial populace. The Crown and Kingdom Seneschal will follow the Baronial selection process as defined in the Society Seneschal's handbook for finding a suitable replacement.

H. When a Barony has no Baron/Baroness, the rights, duties, and titles granted to this office revert to the Crown. The Crown may appoint a Vicar to oversee the Barony in Their stead.

I. The Vicar will have all powers, privileges, rights, and duties of the Baronage, save that they cannot assume the title, nor will they have the right to bear the arms in canton.

J. The Baron/Baroness has the privilege of bearing the Baronial Arms in canton upon their own arms while in office.

K. The title of Territorial Baron/Baroness may be accompanied by a Grant of Arms and will process ahead of the Bestowed Peerages in a March of Precedence.

I.110 TERRITORIAL SOVEREIGN AND CONSORT

The Sovereigns and Consorts of Principalities (Coronets) within Meridies will be honored as appropriate to Their station, and in a manner similar to the Sovereign and Consort of Meridies. They will swear fealty to the Crown of Meridies.

I.111 ROYAL ARMS OF MERIDIES

A. The Royal Arms of Meridies may only be displayed in the Presence of the Arms bearer or the symbols (i.e., the thrones or crowns) of Their Presence.

B. The Royal Arms of the Sovereign are: Argent, on a pale sable a crown of three points; above each point a mullet argent, overall a laurel wreath counterchanged.

C. The Royal Arms of the Consort are: Argent, on a pale sable a crown of three points, above each point a mullet argent, overall a chaplet of roses counterchanged.

D. The Royal Arms of the Sovereign Heir are: Argent, on a pale sable a crown of three points, above each point a mullet argent, overall a laurel wreath and in chief a label counterchanged.

E. The Royal Arms of the Consort Heir are: Argent, on a pale sable a crown of three points, above each point a mullet argent, overall a chaplet of roses and in chief a label counterchanged.

ARTICLE II COURTS

II.100 THE ROYAL COURTS OF MERIDIES

A. The Crowns' Personal Courts consist of the Crown and Their entourage.

B. The Heirs' Personal Courts consist of the Heirs and Their entourage.

C. A Royal Court is presided over by the Sovereign and Consort for the purpose of award presentations, presentations by the populace, proclamations of the State, and/or processions.

D. A Coronet Court is presided over by the Sovereign and Consort of a Principality for the purpose of presentations, proclamations, and/or processions specific to that Principality.

E. A Baronial Court is presided over by the Territorial Baron and/or Baroness for the purpose of award presentations, presentations by the populace, proclamations of State, and/or processions specific to that Barony.

F. Branches below Baronial level may request to recognize outstanding individuals within their group during a court. The recognition of tourney or other group-sponsored competition winners may also be part of the court business. These presentations are at the discretion of the Crown and time for them should be requested before court.

II.101 COURTS OF INQUIRY

A. Purpose of the Court

1. The primary purpose of a Court of Inquiry (COI) is to determine if there is sufficient cause to convene a Court of Chivalry (COC, see II.102).
2. Any subject of Meridies may seek redress against another subject who they believe has behaved in a manner contrary to the Society's rules for courtly and chivalrous conduct as referenced in the SCA "Code of Conduct."
3. Under no circumstances will the COI examine matters that belong rightfully in civil or criminal courts of the nation. Only those aspects of the matter that pertain solely to the Society may be examined.
4. The COI does not cover matters pertaining to the SCA, Inc. Bullying and Harassment policy.
5. A COI is not an official event of the Kingdom.

B. Composition of the Court

1. The Kingdom Seneschal shall designate a deputy, hereafter referred to as Counselor, to convene COI proceedings.
2. Should the Kingdom Seneschal have a conflict of interest, a committee of the Earl Marshall, the Beacon Principal Herald, and the Kingdom Exchequer shall empanel the COI and appoint the Counselor.
3. A committee of five (5) residents of Meridies will be empaneled to act as the COI and review the documentation provided by the Counselor.
  - a. The five (5) members must be paid members of SCA, Inc.
  - b. Four (4) members of the panel will be chosen from the bestowed peerages and/or a Territorial Baron(ess).
  - c. One (1) member will be chosen from the populace at large and shall not be a Peer.
  - d. The members of the COI cannot serve in the COC, should it convene.
4. A recorder will be appointed to make detailed record/minutes of the COI's proceedings

- a. The recorder will have no voice in the COI.
- b. The recorder cannot serve in the COC, should it convene.

C. Conduct of the Court

1. The Kingdom Seneschal shall inform the Crown of a COI request
2. The Counselor shall empanel a COI to investigate the stated allegations.
3. The Counselor is responsible for directing the conduct of the COI. It is the purview of the Counselor to gather documents and/or statements from witnesses to present to the COI.
4. Evidence and statements must be limited to information directly bearing on the allegations of the complainant.
5. Any investigation must be conducted in accordance with the governing documents of the Society, Kingdom Law, and the Society Sanction Guide.
6. The Complainant and the Defendant will provide written statements to the Counselor thirty (30) days prior to the proceedings.
7. The Complainant and the defendant may also provide to the Counselor a list of witnesses with contact information.
8. The Counselor will notify the Complainant and the Defendant of the acceptance of the complaint with the time, place, and nature of the COI by registered mail.
9. The Counselor will notify witnesses of the time and place of the COI.
10. The COI may be conducted in a private meeting or in a public forum.

D. Findings of the Court

1. The COI will be polled to determine if there is a majority recommendation.
2. The Counselor will compile a summary report from the COI and attach evidential documentation.
3. The COI may recommend a COC.
  - a. If a COC is recommended, the Kingdom Seneschal will follow the procedure as outlined in COC (section II.103).
  - b. The Kingdom Seneschal will inform the Crown of the outcome of the COI.
  - c. The Kingdom Seneschal shall inform the Complainant and Defendant of the decision of the COI, in writing by registered mail, within five (5) days of the COI findings.

4. The record of the proceedings, all statements, witness lists, and any other documentation will be held with the confidential records of the Kingdom Seneschal's office for a period of seven (7) years.

II.102 COURTS OF CHIVALRY

- A. A Court of Chivalry (COC) is convened to hear the findings and evidence concerning the disposition of the subject of a Court of Inquiry (COI). A COC must take place during an event published in the Kingdom newsletter.
- B. Under no circumstances will the COC examine matters that belong rightfully in civil or criminal courts of the nation. Only those aspects of the matter that pertain solely to the Society may be examined.
- C. Any investigation must be conducted in accordance with the governing documents of the Society, Kingdom Law, and the Society Sanction Guide.
- D. Composition of the COC:
  1. The Kingdom Seneschal, Earl Marshal, or Beacon, referred to hereafter as Chair, organizes and presides over its sessions.
  2. The COC must take place within thirty (30) days of the delivery of the findings of the COI.
  3. Notification of the COC must be sent to the involved parties by certified mail within five (5) days. This notification will include:
    - a. The findings of the COI, and
    - b. The summary of the evidence.
  4. The Chair of the COC must consult with all parties and make all reasonable accommodations to set the time and location of the COC.
  5. The Beacon Herald or an authorized representative will record the proceedings, which is defined as the substance of all testimony presented and the recommendations of the Court.
  6. The Kingdom Seneschal will provide a written copy of the Kingdom Law, marking the pertinent laws on COC, to the defendant(s), the complainant(s), the jury, and the members of the Court.
  7. Neither the defendant(s) nor complainant(s), or any individuals appointed by the Kingdom Seneschal, the Earl Marshal, or the Crown may be a member of the Court.
- E. Representation:
  1. The Chair will appoint a prosecutor prior to the proposed date for the Court to convene. The complainant may act as their own prosecutor or may elect for the Chair to appoint representation. If the Kingdom is the complainant, the Chair will appoint a prosecutor.

2. The defendant may choose to represent themselves, or be represented by another member at the Court, and may not be forced to speak for himself/herself.

F. Composition of the Jury:

1. The Chair will appoint a jury of residents of Meridies.
2. The jury must be selected prior to the date of the COC.
3. The jury is made up of five (5) or seven (7) persons, and two (2) alternates, chosen by the Chair. The defendant may reject two (2) members of the jury.
4. Once selected and finalized, the jury of five (5) or seven (7) will select a foreperson to speak for the jury and announce its findings.

If the defendant is the Sovereign or Consort, the matter is taken directly to the Board, as the Board reserves to itself the discipline of members for actions taken while serving as Sovereign or Consort of a Kingdom. See SCA, Inc. Organizational Handbook, "Reservations to the Board," IV.G.10. rev 8/2018.

G. Conduct of the COC:

1. The Chair is responsible for directing the conduct of the COC.
2. The Court, the prosecutor, and the defense may call witnesses.
3. Witnesses, by their attendance, agree to full participation in the process.
4. Evidence and testimony must be limited to information directly bearing on the charges as found by the COI and as presented by the prosecutor.
5. Hearsay is inadmissible.

H. Findings of the Court:

1. The COC jury will determine a verdict.
2. The Chair of the COC will deliver the verdict of the jury to the Kingdom Seneschal and the Crown within ten (10) days of rendering.
3. The Crown has ten (10) days from receipt of that verdict to determine judgement, and justification, for that judgement.
4. At the end of ten (10) days, the Crown must send written notification of Their judgement, Their justification for the judgement, and the verdict of the jury to the Kingdom Seneschal, and both the complainant and defendant, via certified mail.
5. The Crown may issue reprimands or Sanctions. If the Crown issues a Sanction, it must be in accordance with the governing documents of the Society, Kingdom Law, and the Society Sanction Guide.

The Curia is a gathering of the populace by the Crown for the purpose of communication between the Crown and Their subjects, usually in the form of a question and answer session. The Curia is held at the pleasure of the Crown at any official event and open to all members of the populace.

ARTICLE III SUCCESSION OF THE CROWN

The succession of the Crown is determined by victory in an armored combat tournament known as Crown List. The tournament is governed by the Rules of the List in Corpora and Kingdom laws, policies, and traditions. Notification of the Crown List must be published in the Kingdom newsletter, providing details about any Royal prerogative regarding eligibility or manner of the List, and stating a deadline for letters of Intent.

III.100 REQUIREMENTS FOR ENTERING A CROWN LIST

A. Acceptance

1. The Crown will choose those entrants They find acceptable after consultation with the Kingdom Seneschal, Earl Marshal, and the Kingdom Exchequer. The Crown may disqualify a competitor or consort for cause.
  - a. These Kingdom Officers have the right to disqualify a competitor or consort for documented violation(s) of Society policy and/or Kingdom law; specifically, concerning the Kingdom Requirements covered in III.100.C.
  - b. The refusing officer must submit the reason for the disqualification to the Crown in writing.
2. A Kingdom officer who wishes to participate in Crown List as a competitor or consort must have a replacement deputy with all proper warrants and other requirements fully in place prior to submitting a letter of intent. The officer must include this information in the letter of intent.
3. The Crown may waive any of the requirements covered in III.100.C. Any such waiver is considered a Royal Prerogative and must be announced in an official SCA outlet. The waiver will apply equally to all applicants.
4. It is the Crown's right to post a list of the competitors and consorts if They choose to do so.

B. General Requirements

1. All participants must meet the requirements established in Corpora. They must also meet any additional requirements set by Kingdom Law or specified by the Crown prior to the list.
2. Each competitor and consort will submit a letter of Intent to the Crown, Kingdom Seneschal, Kingdom Exchequer, and Earl Marshal on or before the published deadline. The letter of Intent must include, at a bare minimum, the following:

- a. A statement that it is the intent of the competitor and consort to participate.
  - b. A statement that each person has read Corpora and Kingdom Law and meets the respective requirements of each.
  - c. Proof of membership for both the competitor and consort.
  - d. A copy of the competitor's authorization card.
  - e. The competitor and the consort must sign the letter.
3. No competitor or consort will have any outstanding financial obligation to the Kingdom or the SCA.

B. By custom and tradition, Meridies does not confer a Patent of Arms to members of the Order of the Rose.

C. By custom and tradition, Peers of Meridies may swear or affirm their support of the Crown of Meridies each reign.

D. It is the right of the members of the Order present to participate in the elevation process.

E. Candidates for any Order conferring a Patent of Arms must meet the criteria defined in Corpora.

F. Each of the Peerage Orders will create and maintain a charter for its own self-governance and name a secretary to facilitate the business of the order.

1. Each Peerage Order must have a copy of their Charter present to conduct business.
2. The charters will include but are not limited to:
  - a. Each charter shall address how to nominate and discuss candidates.
  - b. Each charter shall address how to poll candidates.
  - c. Each charter shall addresses what constitutes a favorable recommendation to the Crown.

- d. Each charter shall address how the secretary communicates agendas, minutes, and other administrative needs of the Order.
- e. Each charter shall have a policy to address transgressors of the Confidentiality of the Order.
- f. Members, in lieu of attendance, may send a proxy to the Order's meetings to provide their consultation for candidates for the Order. The process for distribution shall be addressed in the charter.
- g. Changes to Charter must follow the process as defined in each Charter.
- h. Charters must be reviewed every two (2) years and approved by the Crown and Order.
- i. Each charter shall define the process for assuming emeritus status.
- j. Each charter shall define the process for Resignation, in accordance with Corpora.
- k. Degradation from Peerage:
  - 1. The Board reserves the right to degrade a person from the Peerage.
  - 2. Each charter will include a process by which the Order can request the degradation of members from Patent Status.
  - 3. If the Order decides to recommend degradation, the Kingdom Seneschal begins the COI process.

G. Each Order will meet at least twice in each Reign, as determined by the Crown and the Order.

- 1. The Crown or the Order may request additional meetings.
- 2. Peerage Orders are permitted to conduct official business online, providing the process is established in the charter.
- 3. After each meeting, the secretary must submit the written minutes and recommendations to the Crown and Order.

VIII.105 AUGMENTATION OF ARMS

An Augmentation of Arms may be bestowed by the Crown upon the arms of any individual or branch for exceptional service to the Kingdom of a nature not normally recognized through Society Awards; e.g., actions of a particularly honorable or charitable nature.

A. The augmentation will be of the form: three mullets argent, 1 and 2 may be placed upon said arms where appropriate.
